

[Mobile pdf] Remembering (Korea: 1950-1953)

Remembering (Korea: 1950-1953)

Dennis J Ottley

*ePub / DOC / audiobook / ebooks / Download PDF

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE

#1659791 in Books 2015-12-22Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 9.02 x .72 x 5.98l, 1.06 #File Name: 1480961795266 pages | File size: 35.Mb

Dennis J Ottley : Remembering (Korea: 1950-1953) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Remembering (Korea: 1950-1953):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Four StarsBy John W BourdonWritten by a real person from a small town.0 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy Dennis OttleyAs expected.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. $40 for the Kindle Version?!!By Video360Wait, what?As a Navy veteran, whose father was a Korean Conflict Army vet, I read with anticipation and excitement, in the ArtsBooks section of the LA Times that "Remembering" was being released on Kindle and in paperback. I was just about to purchase, then I looked at the pricing: $40 for the Kindle version, and $138 for the paperback?!! Are you kidding?No, thank you. I'll pass.I may go to the library instead.

Remembering (Korea: 1950-1953) is the author's memoir. This book describes his involvement in Korea during the Korean War and points out the reasoning behind the conflict. Over the years, the Korean War has been considered "The Forgotten War" by many. At one time, President Harry S. Truman referred to it as a "Police Action," but 5,720,000 Americans who served in Korea have never forgotten what it was about and that it was much more than just a "Police Action." They understand that it was an all-out war, and one of the bloodiest in American history. It involved over 20 countries of the United Nations that joined with the United States to save the South Koreans from annihilation and the tyranny of the communist countries, such as Russia and North Korea. On July 27, 1953, an armistice was signed and today South Korea remains as a free nation and one of the strongest and wealthiest countries in Asia. This book is to help Americans understand what the war was all about and describe one soldier's experience and opinion of the conflict. About the AuthorDennis J Ottley was born on January 28, 1932 in Salt Lake City, Utah. He lived in many different towns throughout his childhood, but his family finally settled in Evanston, Wyoming. He quit high school at the start of his senior year and joined the 141st Tank Battalion of the Wyoming National Guard. About the same time he met a girl who he became very serious about and married on July 26, 1950. When the Korean War started, Dennis' guard unit was activated in September of 1950. In July 1951 Dennis was selected for overseas duty and was sent to Korea to help form a new tank company. After serving almost ten months in Korea as a tank gunner and tank commander, he was discharged on May 29, 1952. Upon arriving home in Evanston, he immediately went back to work to make a new life for himself and his family. After a few years he became highly involved in his community and ended up serving three 4-year terms as a member of the Evanston City Council and three 4-year terms as Mayor. Dennis was in business for himself most of his adult life and retired from his real estate agency at the end of 2013 at the age of 81. After raising four sons and 64 years of marriage, he and his wife Sandy still live in Evanston.