Henderson , Jamestown 1607" , there are no documents that the man existed. Only Lucy Horton's book gives information but it has been proven on a Henderson Mailing list over 10 years ago that a man looked into it and said "I have looked at it, and I have looked at Jamestown and lists of people who lived there; immigrated there. There is NO Thomas Henderson from Jamestown. It is fiction. He did not exist there and if he did, then whoever has that record has it in their library somewhere and that person must have taken the original document out of record books...since that probably didn't happen... he does not exist" . As a historian and come from the 'Henderson' line, I too looked into it and have found no record of "Thomas Henderson from Jamestown"Other than that, this is a great book :) love it :)

Drawing upon research conducted in both Scotland and the United States in manuscript and in published sources, David Dobson has here amassed all the genealogical data that we know of concerning members of the Society of Friends in Scotland prior to 1700 and the origins of Scottish Quakers living in East New Jersey in the 1680s. While there is great deal of variation in the descriptions of the roughly 500 Scottish Quakers listed in the volume, the entries typically give the individual's name, date or place of birth, and occupation, and sometimes the name of a spouse or date of marriage, name of parents, place and reason for imprisonment in Scotland, place of indenture, date of death, and the source of the information.
